What is your comment?	I think it is great that the old house and the land will be sorted out as it looks a mess at the minute. However I think it's crazy that 4 houses will be squashed in such a small space. Parking is already bad enough for the residents of Lychgate View. It is right next to a busy pub, which brings in a lot of cars. It is also close to two schools, which also brings in a lot of traffic and parked cars. The new houses will be right at the top of the road causing more hazards when trying to pull out of Lychgate view. It would make more sense to have 2-3 houses built and provide more parking for the houses than squash 4 houses in with what looks like awkward parking spaces. If you build 4 houses, it will bring more parked cars down Lychgate view as there wont be enough parking for the new houses. Most houses have 2 cars and there are only 6 spaces. It would be nice for the current residents to be taking into consideration.
